THE LAST of the JEDI

After the death of Lord Darth Vader, Lord Lugar of the Sith has taken his place.

With the Lagoninan crystal, all Lugar needs is the Cytoplasmic crystal. With both crystals he would have control over the force as well as the universe.

Now a rebellion is taking most of the Empire from Corvus to a prison.....

The engines launched. The pilots looked out the window and saw the Millenium Falcon, 15 X-wings, 22 Y-Wings, 40 A-Wings, 20 B-Wings, and a Rebel Transport leaving the Endor moon. The young pilot looked back in a side compartment. "Darn, no food. Hey! Antilles, I'm goin' to go back there and get us some lunch. Take over, okay?"

"Sure, Captain," said Janson Antilles. The captain walked back where he saw a tiny red light flash. "What does it mean, no food? Do you know?"

"Not me," the pilot turned, "Imperials!" He shouted. The captain jumped into his seat as he saw 90 Tie Interceptors shoot the engines. The side door opened. 20 Stormtroopers shot the pilots and guards. The troopers freed the Empire. The ship headed towards the Death Star.

The Star Destroyer had been destroyed.

One short, but busy day on Dantooine, General Skywalker sat with half of the Rebel Alliance in the briefing room with his friends Han, Lando, Chewie, Leia, and Wedge when Admiral Ackbar came to the center of the room.

"Although we thought we had destroyed the Empire, a new one has formed. It is led by Lord Vader," said Ackbar.

The crowd was shocked.

Later that day the Rebels learned that there was an even new Death Star. It was just like the one before it except it had a shield that made it look like a moon.

After the briefing, a TIE fighter climbed into Han's room. No one saw or knew the TIE fighter was in Han's room.

Chewie opened the door. The TIE fighter tripped Chewbacca and down a corridor. Before the TIE fighter knew it, it was in Luke's hand.

Luke put the hoft on his shoulder and left.

At the ranger bay, Luke got onto a Tauntaun and went out into a forest, outside of the base to free the Hojibs and to go on patrol.

"Code 6-5-X," said Luke, waiting for the shield doors to open.

"You may pass, Skywalker..." said an officer over a loudspeaker.

The Tauntaun started to run. Luke scouted for any more Hojibs. Finally, he spotted some. He got off his Tauntaun. He set the Hojib on a small rock, and then Luke got onto his Tauntaun to continue scouting.

At 25 miles away from the base, Luke spotted an Imperial Probot. Luke grabbed his gun and fired.

The probot exploded like fire-works, only sending out rays of energy. One of the rays hit Luke and knocked him off of his Tauntaun onto some rocks and went unconscious.

Meanwhile, aboard the Death Star
Luger was giving orders when Admiral Piett spoke, "Luger, a probot on Dantooine has been destroyed by something..."

"Dantooine, ... that's it," Luger turned,
"Set your course for Dantooine."
"With pleasure," said Piett.

oooo

Back at the Rebel base, C-3PO and R2-D2 headed for the Falcon.
C-3PO said, "Captain Solo..."

Han walked down the ramp,
"Yes, goldenrod?"

"Is Luke with you? He hasn't reported in yet."

Han waited no more. He ran down the ramp, in corridors, and to com. Beikin's quarters. "Commander, General Skywalker's not back, he hasn't reported in..."

"Solo, do you want to search for him... Send out Tantive IV, you may lead."

"Yes, Sir,"

oooo

Over the loud-speaker Han and Leia heard Gen. Willard Day, "Would

Solo, Cabrission, Artillies, Janson, and Zev

report to hang 3...?"

"Why would General Milard want you and the others at Mountain Bay?" asked Leia.

"Oh, it's Luke," said Han.

"What do mean?"

"He hasn't reported in," said

Han.

"Oh,"

0000

"Sir," said Piatt, "We now are at Sullust," he looked at Sugar, "We're re-fueling, sir. Any orders?"

"Yes," said Sugar, "jam all stress missions, prepare the walkers, and once we refuel go to light-speed..... and prepare my shuttle."

"Sir, may I ask some questions?" asked Piatt.

"Yes,"

"Why do you want your shuttle prepared?"

"I'm going to the Executor
then to the Death Star," said Sugar.

On Dantooine, Luke woke up by the sounds of Stormtroopers.

Luke grabbed his lightsaber. He was about to ignite it when he clipped it back onto his belt.

"Hold it right there you rebel scum!" said a stormtrooper.
"Come on..." said the other stormtrooper.

The three boarded speederbikes and left.

"Lord Fugor," said Gen. Veers, "we have just refueled, and your shuttle is ready."

"Good.... Are the walkers ready?"

"Yes, sir!" said Veers.
"I am now going to my shuttle."

On the speederbikes Luke jumped off his bike and onto another bike. He knocked the biker off and threat from coming between onto the other side.

Just then, Luke's original cycle burst into flames as Luke headed home.

At the base, Luke signed in and then told Dodonra why he was late.

Suddenly, the ground shook.
Alarms went off.

"All pilots to your stations," a man said over the loudspeaker.

Zoom! 14 snowspeeders took off.

Outside 5 A.T.-A.T.s
were coming towards the base.

"All wings report in..."
said Luke.

"Red 2 standing by."

"Red 6 standing by."

"Red 12 standing by."

"Red 11 standing by."

"Red 4 standing by."

"Red 10 standing by."

"Red 5 standing by."

"Red ... argh!!"

Red 7's speeder burst into flames!

"Switch deflectors on double front!"

"Wedge, go for their legs," said Luke.

Red 2, Red 4, and Red Leader shot tow cables to the legs. They flew around the At-At.

"Release cables!" said Luke.

The At-At tripped and fell to the ground in to flames.

"Red Leader, the homing beacon you onto viperscout's ride has stopped at L-5. Take Red 2 and 3 to start your run," said Base-2.

Luke, Wedge, and Biggs flew to L-5. There they saw a fueling station.

"Let's hit this place and leave," said Biggs.

"They all blew up the station doing their worst.

They flew back to where the walkers were. 3 walkers were left. A laser hit a speeder. That speeder crashed into the head of an At-at.

The At-at exploded and fell on another At-at.

"4 down an' one to go!" said Perkins.

"No... Take it prisoner, knock out its guns," said Luke. "Don't damage it!!!"

"Dack," he said to his tail-gunner, "you take over, I going to leap onto the walker."

"You'll get killed, Luke," said Dack.

"Not if I use the force."

The cockpit opened and Luke jumped. He miss the At-at by 2 ft. He fired his grappling hook. It wrapped around a pipe. He stopped falling. At 3 ft. above the ground, he started climbing.

Luke opened the door
and shot the two pilots.
"I got it!" shouted Luke into his comlink as he threw the pilots to the ground.

"Luke," said Wedge as
he came through the door,
"I'm going to help you pilot
this thing."

oooo

Aboard the Executor,
Lugar boarded his shuttle.

"Go as fast as you can to the Death Star," said Lugar.

The engines ignited.

The ship was on its way to the Death Star.

"Luke!" shouted Leia. She hugged him. "How do you feel?"

"Oh I'm fine... Where's Han?" said Luke.

"He's working on the falcon," said Leia.

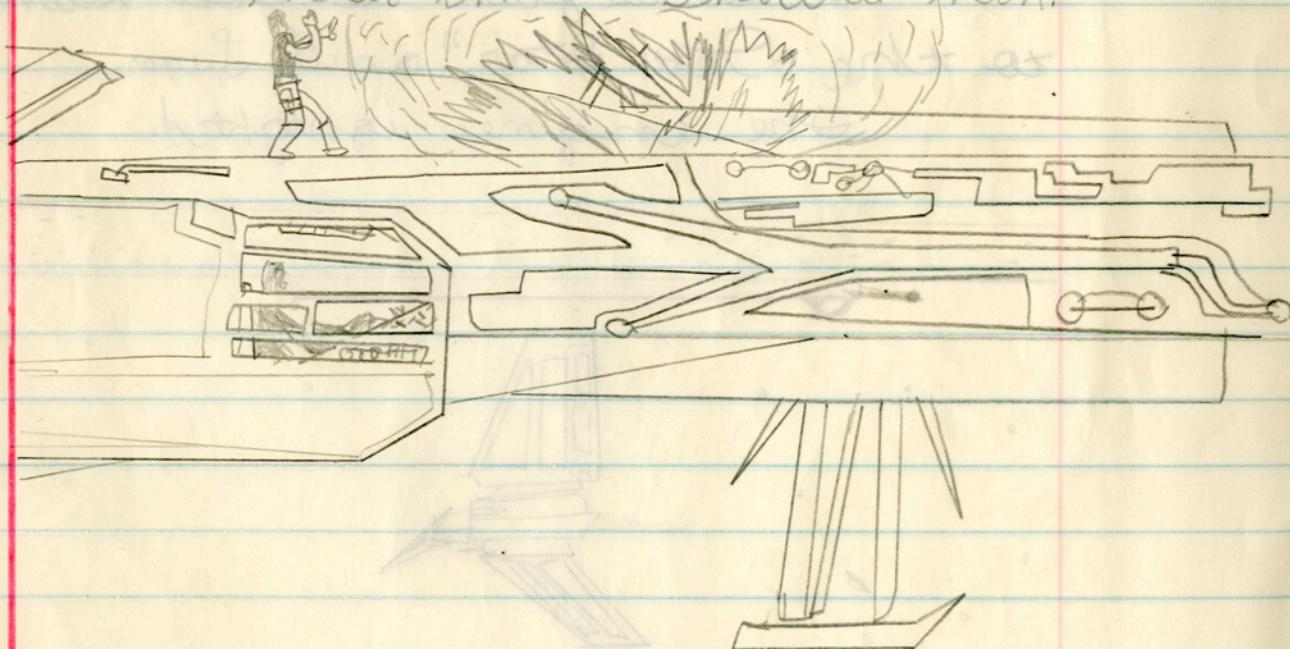

Luke walked to the Falcon.

"Okay... now try it Chewie," said Han grinning.

"Arrg wie kic cheko," said Chewie.

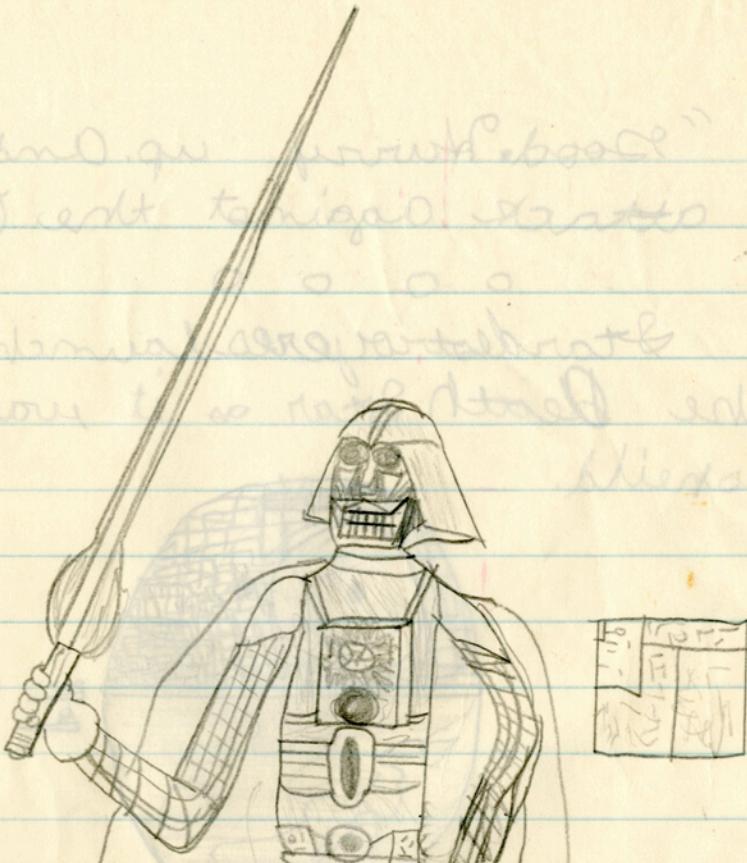

The hyperdrive pipes blew up.

"Hold it!!" shouted Han.

"Arragh mieke ukie maha!" said Chewie.

"So we need some minor adjustments."

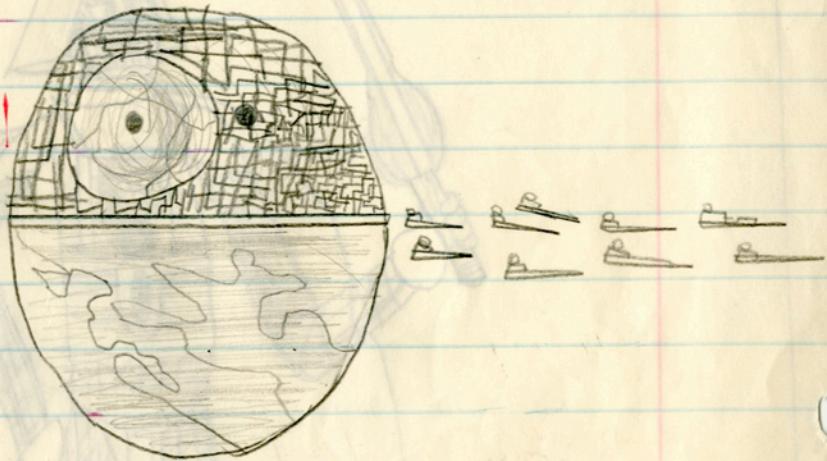

"Where are we now?"
said Lugar.

"We're repelling at Bespin."

"Good. Hurry up. And send an attack against the Rebels!"

○ ○ ○ ○

Stardestroyers launched out of the Death Star as it was using its shield.

The shuttle took off.

○ ○ ○ ○

"Han," said Lando, "are you going to be in that attack on the Death Star?"

"No," said Han, "Luke an'
Chewbacca an' I are going to somehow knock out its shield."

Luke walked up. "You ready
Han?"

Han said, "Sure kid, anytime."

"All we need is some type of shuttle to get to the Death Star," said Luke.

"Hey, what are friends for?" asked Lando as he showed them an all-most completed shuttle.

They were amazed. "Hey uh Lando," said Luke, "could you go get C-3PO and R2-D2?"

"Anytime."

"Sir," said 3PO, "we're ready!" Artoo beeped.

"Okay, lets go," said Luke. They boarded the shuttle.

"Let's see," said Han. "C-3PO, R2-D2, Luke, and myself. That makes three."

"Four, sir," said 3PO.

"Just testing you goldenrod," said Han.

"We're 4 miles from the Death Star, any orders?" asked a pilot.

"Yes, scan the planet for a..... Cytoplasmic crystal,"

"Sir, rebel ships are 100 miles away from the crystal and are tracking both us and the crystal," said a pilot.

"Oh no, rebel fighters coming in!"

"Get reinforcements pilot!" shouted Lugar,

"Wedge, Perkins, Biggs," said Dack, "jam the stress missions and lock my controls Wedge. I'm going to get aboard that shuttle."

The window opened. Dack jumped. He landed on the wing. The fighters called off the attack and left except Wedge.

An escape pod from the shuttle burst away. The shuttle started to fall.

Dack climbed to the top wing. He saw an X-wing coming towards him.

R2-63, Wedge's X-wing R2 unit, fired a tow cable,

Dack grabbed onto the cable, he climbed onto the X-wing as it pulled away.

"Let's get that crystal," said Wedge.

The X-wing landed on the gassious planet of Bespin.

Then Dack and Wedge heard an A-Wing, a B-Wing, 2 X-Wings, and a 2 seater Y-Wing.

The pilots started to dig.

"I've found it!!!", shouted Janson. He threw the crystal to Wedge. "Let's go!"

At the base, Admiral Ackbar handed the Cytoplasmic crystal to Luke.

"You have to find the detension block. Once you get there you must go to cell THX-1126. In there, you will find an opening in the wall. You put this crystal in the hole. Two walls will open. Go through the one on the left. Then, go to the reactor room. In there use your lightsaber to cut a hole in the tube marked X.76XQT. Throw the crystal in and get out. It will blow up the shield." He paused, "May the Force be with you, always."

Luke and Han boarded the shuttle. The engines roared. Then the shuttle flew out of the docking bay.

Within minutes the shuttle was in space. "Orbiting planet," said the computer, "Docking at Death Star, if possible, in 5-10 minutes."

A Death Star commander broke the silence, "This is Death Star control, input your name of shuttle and purpose of docking and code."

Han said, "Uh, Shuttle THX-138, checking for faults, and THX-138...." He turned pale.

"You may enter now," said the commander.

The wings folded up. Still flying in space, the shuttle glided freely towards the Death Star. Luke turned off the comlink. "Do you know where the uniforms are kept, Han? We can't walk out in these," He pointed to Han's black long-sleeved jacket, Corvillian pants and boots. Then Luke pointed to his own Rebelion camouflaged suit, black Jedi shirt, pants, boots, and lightsaber.

The shuttle landed. Han, dressed as an AT-ST driver, looked out the window to find about 100 troopers, commanders, and Lord Fugaz with laser rifles.

The hatch opened. Luke and Han stode down the ramp carrying a device that checked for faults. The device started to shoot out tiny sparks. The rebels set down the gadget and hurried away from it. "It was a bumpy ride, Sir," Han told a general.

"All right," the general turned. "Let's go," looking 0 0 0 this, beginning

The Rebel ships launched. Soon they formed an Armada 2 miles long. "All ships set coordinates... Jump to speed of light on my command."

Inside the Falcon cockpit Lando Calrissian and a wookie, Chewbacca set the course. "This is it, Admiral," said the original owner of the Millennium Falcon and administrator of Cloud City. The fleet sped into lightspeed like a comet.

oooo oooo

Back on the Death Star, Luke and Han had been trying to reach the detention block. They boarded an elevator.

The doors opened. The 14 operators looked up. "Mmm... I didn't know Stormtroopers were allowed to, mmm," he looked at Luke, "uh wear lightsabers. Who's your I.D?" He then motioned to the guards. "I'll have to clear it."

The guards came closer. Suddenly, 2 pipes burst! The guards fell. Luke and Han shot the guards! Han felt something on his arm, a commander grabbed him. "Hold him!" shouted a guard. "I got him." Han kicked the commander. The guard fired.

Han left out of the way and kicked the guard and shot him and 2 generals. Suddenly, Luke got shot in the arm!

He fell. 4 Admirals ran to Luke, "Stop!" one of them said picking up Luke, Take them to cell 10,29. Just then there was a flash of light, the admirals fell!

Luke threw his ignited lightsaber at the last guard. He fell.

"You okay Bid?" asked Han.

"On the arm. Yes, it didn't even go through the armor."

A light on the control panel.

"Yes," said Han.

"What happened?" said an operator over the comlink.

Luke went down the hall to find cell block-1126.

"Uh, slight weapons malfunction, but... everything's all right now. How are you?"

"We're sending a squad up!"

"Uh, negative! Negative! We have a reactor leak here. Give us a few minutes to look down."

"What's your operation number?"

"Uh I'm uh er gawd
Nugem, Number 82,-, -896," He grabbed his gun. There was a long pause,

"Okay, everything checked out all right. Over and out!"

Han sighed.

"I found it!" Luke shouted.
Suddenly, the Death Star shook!
Alarms sounded! Luke and Han ran down the left passage.

"All pilots, to your stations!
Rebel ships attacking!"

o o o

Outside, the X-Wings, Y-Wings,
B-Wings, A-Wings and the Falcon flew towards the Death Star.

"Darn!" said Sando as he saw Star Destroyers, TIE Fighters, and TIE Interceptors fly out of the Death Star.
"the cloaking devices failed!"

A battle raged! Three X-Wings
2 Y-Wings and the Falcon flew down the Death Star.

"Start over Han," and Luke him headed back towards the shuttle the ceiling caved in and separated them.

"Han?!" said Luke, "Han!!! Were are you?"

"You okay kid?... Luke are you okay...? Answer me." Luke grabbed his comlink.

"Yes,... I'm fine. Can you get out? I can you need any help?"

"Ya, there's a way out, I'm goin' to head to the reactor room and get the shield down and set up 10 hydrogen bombs to blow part of the Death Star." He paused, "You get back to the shuttle. I'm activating my homing beacon so you'll know where I am, and may the Force be with you, always," with the beacon shut off.

Luke jettisoned his Empire uniform and left.

0000

"Admiral the shield...
there's still no reading on it,"

said Lando "... Did you see that?"

The Death Star fired 4 shots, each one a direct hit, four fighters obliterated. The Falcon shook. It lost its rear deflector shields.

In the reactor room Han shot a hole in a pipe. He threw the crystal in. There was a beam of light followed by the shaking of the Death Star followed by alarms sounding. Han set the bombs and left.

○ ○ ○ ○

Luke, trying to find the control tower, was leening as quiet as possible found the tower. He felt a gun stick into his back. "Who are you?" a stormtrooper asked. Luke saw 15 of them. Then, suddenly they fell down, choked, and died. Luke had used the force.

Luke ignited his lightsaber and stuck it into tower.

○ ○ ○ ○

Outside, the main gun obliterated!

Inside the Death Star, Lugar and some of his officers were trapped in the control tower. Suddenly, a pipe burst loose and hit one of the officers on the head, "Arrgh!" he shouted. He fell on one of the panels. The ultimate power in the universe, now a just about useless hunk of junk, started falling into another system's atmosphere!

"25 minutes until critical mass!"

said a computer.

Luke could see the shuttle. Suddenly, the floor collapsed! He went shooting down an air vent! He then activated his comlink.

"Echo 3 to Echo 7," he shouted, "Come in!!!"

"Kid, where are you?"

"Setting up a lock down an air vent, nothing much. Where you?"

"At the shuttle. Can I get to you from here?"

"No," he paused. Then, he stopped moving, "Wait, there's a locked door. If I can use my.... my lightsaber."

The Falcon flew down a trench followed by X-wings and Y-wings. Towers fired their lasers. This reminded Lando of the battle at Kessel. He was fighting against the forces of Jabba the Hutt. A person named Snaggletooth. This person was a smuggler himself until he was caught, beaten, and had the death sentence on 12 systems. Then, he turned to evil. Ben Kenobi cut his arm off.
